

Terms and Conditions

1. Overview

By proceeding on our website you are agreeing to our Terms and Conditions. The terms and content on the website can be altered by Wallets Rural Property Services without any notice at any time.

2. Site Information in Good Faith

All information and photographs on this website are given in good faith and for information purposes only. Our efforts are to include correct information but make no guarantee as to the accuracy of information given, Wallets Rural Property Services takes no responsibility for errors or omissions.

3. Site Information Not Advice or Recommendation

No information on this site should be solely relied upon and does not give advice or recommendations.

4. Contractual Relationships

No contractual relationship is entered into by information on this website.

5. Contractual Obligations

Wallets Rural Property Services are under no liability of any kind with the downloading or using any other materials on this site as a result of a computer virus.

6. Links

Wallets Rural Property Services may display links to other websites which we have no control over. We therefore assume no responsibility over the content of these websites or losses which may occur when using the third party sites. Wallets Rural Property Services also may not necessarily have any association with the third party website.

7. Data Protection Act 1998 (the Act)

Wallets Rural Property Services takes privacy and security of our client and contacts very seriously. We follow strict procedures on storing and disclosing information given to us.

8. Email Confidentiality and Disclaimer

Any attachments sent by us are believed to be virus free but it is the recipients responsibility of checking this before opening or saving attachments. Wallet Rural Property Services does not accept any loss or damage arising from a virus.

9. Site Operated under Scottish Law

This site is controlled and operated by Wallets Rural Property Services from Scotland and is subject to Scottish Law. Disputes concerning our Terms and Conditions or information on this site is ruled by Scottish Law.